

For Immediate Release

Date: May 4, 2011

Subject: Mad-City Ski Team wins China Tournament

The Mad-City Ski Team traveled to Beijing and Laiwu, China this week to compete in the Sino-American International Water Ski Competition against the Chinese National Water Ski Team.

The teams competed head to head in performing difficult water ski acts such as four tier human pyramids and acrobatic jumping. Mad-City took 1st place by a mere 30 points, and Dan Wang of Mad-City was named Best Male Skier.

The 20 person team heads back to Madison on Friday and will prepare for its summer season which includes FREE shows at Law Park on Lake Monona every Sunday night. The team will compete in several tournaments and again will contend for the Wisconsin State and National titles. Mad-City most recently has won the State and National crowns in 2004, 06, 07, 08, and 09.

Check out the Mad-City Ski Team website for more information about the Laiwu and Beijing competitions, and general information on the team.

<http://www.madcityskiteam.com/2011/05/03/stand-up-for-the-champions/>

For questions contact: Matt Heilman heilmanmatt@gmail.com